7JUN2022

Written comment to be included with my public comment of 7JUNE2022 Board of County Commissioners meeting, general topic.

From the legislative and oversight body of the county, the BOCC, is this legitimate for the DCD Director to move out of state while retaining the elected position, is this a failure to uphold the oath of office? If it is perceived it is legitimate then what parameters are being met by the DCD Director to satisfy the elected position as DCD Director? Does the BOCC believe this action is in conformance with the intent of the County Charter?

Per the quotes that were made public in the Peninsula Daily News, one day a month and working remotely by cell phone and email, where is that information being made openly and public? What schedule will be made available when that one day a month is taking place?

DCD Director: "Our house sold faster than we thought it would and rather than pay to store our furniture we sent it home to Mississippi,"

"The processes are the same as they have always been"

"I attended a code enforcement meeting via zoom, I'm dealing with emails, and answering phone calls. I have been telling everyone to call my cell phone"

"They did not allow me to work remotely when COVID-19 was in full bloom"

"They said it was because the road engineer was going to give the service to the community that he always gave."

Commissioner Ozias: "Open to the public"

Commissioner Ozias: "The Department of Community Development shares a common space with both the Public Works department and the Environmental Health Department which meant that the main 'front door' to that combined office space was not closed and locked"

DCD Director: "We were going to go out to people's cars and pick up their plans. We had a table outside the office with a screen on it for people who wanted to meet us in the hall. We had it worked out, but they (commissioners) wouldn't let us lock the doors"
